THE COMMS BOARD ROOM

08160122896
www.thecommsboardroom.com
info@thecommsboardroom.com
22, Simpson Street, Ebute-meta Lagos

TECH & COMMS · SPEAKER CONCEPT NOTE · PANEL

Building and Owning a Media Business: The Jet Media Story

Where Communications Meet Technology

Barnabas PANELIST

DATE	Thursday, 26 November 2026
VENUE	Legacy Hall, Crawford University
YOUR ROLE	Panelist
YOUR SESSION	Building and Owning a Media Business: The Jet Media Story
LENGTH	the panel runs after the three talks; about 25–30 minutes shared with the other panelist, then audience questions (final timings to be confirmed)
AUDIENCE	Mass Communication students (all levels), with lecturers and alumni
FORMAT	Practitioner-led conversations, a panel, and a live Q&A
PARTNERS	Department of Mass Communication, Crawford University, and the Crawford University Alumni Association

01 About Tech & Comms

Tech & Comms is an initiative of The Comms Boardroom (TCBR) to close the gap between what students are taught about communications and what the profession looks like on the ground. It is not a lecture series. It is a set of honest conversations, led by people currently doing the work, built around three things every Mass Communication student deserves to hear before they graduate: communications in the real world, media intelligence and proving value, and building a personal brand.

02 Why you are on the panel

The three talks cover the profession as it is: the real job, media intelligence, and personal branding. The panel shows students what is possible with those skills.

Your angle is ownership. As the founder of Jet Media, a media consultation services company, you show students that communications can be a business they build, not only a job they apply for. The panel questions touch all three topics, with most of the time on building and running Jet Media.

03 Your angle on the panel

- How Jet Media started, and what made you decide to build rather than only work for someone else.
- What media consultation services clients actually pay for, and how you show them value.
- How you use the day's themes (real-world comms, data and personal brand) in running the business.
- What you look for when you hire or work with young communicators.

04 Questions the moderator may ask you

The host moderates. You won't be asked every question; they're here so you can prepare.

1. OPENING Tell us about Jet Media. What does a media consultation company do day to day?
2. TOPIC 01 What did you learn about communications in practice that school didn't prepare you for?
3. OWNERSHIP When did you decide to start your own company, and what did the first year look like?
4. OWNERSHIP How did you get your first clients? What made them trust a new company?
5. TOPIC 02 How do you show clients that your work is paying off? What do they ask to see?
6. OWNERSHIP What is the hardest part of running a media business in Nigeria right now?
7. TOPIC 03 How much has your personal brand helped the business?
8. OWNERSHIP What do you look for when you hire graduates or interns?
9. CLOSING If a student in this hall wants to build a company like Jet Media one day, what should they start doing now?

05 What students should leave with

> - Communications skills can be turned into a business.
> - Clients pay for results they can see, so measurement and relationships matter.
> - Reputation and personal brand open doors for a young company.

06 Tone and approach

- Speak from your own work. Real examples, real numbers where you can share them, and real mistakes land better than definitions.
- Keep it Nigerian. Show how the work looks here, not only how the textbooks describe it.
- Talk with the students, not at them. Short stories, plain language, and room for questions.
- Leave them with something to do this week, not only something to think about.

07 What we need from you

- A short bio (60–80 words) and a clear headshot, for the programme and our social posts.
- Slides are optional. If you use them, please send them a day before so we can load them on the hall system.
- Your preferred social handles, so we can tag you when we share highlights.
- Any equipment you need (for example, internet access for a live demo).

Thank you for giving your time to the next generation of communicators.

Samuel Ogundeji
Founder & Lead Strategist, The Comms Boardroom Technologies (TCBR)
08160122896 · info@thecommsboardroom.com · www.thecommsboardroom.com